BIOGRAPHY

Chris began his now 42 year career in the insurance industry back in 1979 after leaving the Culver City PD due to injury. Like so many others, he began his insurance career at GAB after which he worked for both a number of carriers and independents. Over that timespan he occupied positions as a Regional Litigation Manager, Risk Services Account Manager, Client Services Director, CD Claim Manager, and a Complex Claim Director before joining York / Sedgwick in January of 2011 and then McLarens in October of last year.

Chris has both handled and managed others handling claims across the majority of the US including both Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Amongst others, notable accounts have called for the handling of claims involving molestation, hospitality, construction defect, energy / solar, catastrophic injury, and those taking place in Indian Country. Benefiting from 42 years of experience in dealing with that variety of accounts and related claim scenarios has afforded Chris the unique opportunity to be able to expertly handle almost any type of loss that comes his way.
