ADJUSTER EXPERIENCE

20 Years

BIOGRAPHY

Following four years' study at Seoul National University of Science and Technology, and two years' military service, Kane graduated in 2003 with a degree in electrical engineering.

He entered the loss adjusting profession later that year and has since accumulated a wealth of practical experience in handling numerous property and casualty claims of various types and sizes.

Kane joined McLarens in 2018 and with his engineering background and adjusting experience, brings with him additional skills to supplement the existing team of adjusters.
