BIOGRAPHY

Brandon began his career in claims as a property loss consultant for an industry-leading firm based in Dallas, Texas. During this tenure, he honed expertise in fire and water damage remediation techniques, commercial roofing systems, building envelope issues, hazardous materials abatement protocols, and intricate cost evaluations—including numerous multi-million-dollar projects.

Since joining McLarens in early 2012, Brandon has been involved with countless complex claims, handling significant loss exposures to successful outcomes under a wide array of vertical markets. In migrating to a management role in recent years, he remains focused on delivering responsive and innovative loss adjusting services for specialized clients across the globe. In 2023, Brandon was promoted to Managing Director, North America to oversee responsibility for all North American adjusting operations and will focus on expanding our key product lines, recruitment and all aspects of our growth plans for the region. Brandon also sits on McLarens' Global Management Team
