BIOGRAPHY

Angela commenced loss adjusting in 2000 after 8 years as a practicing lawyer working predominantly in insurance litigation. She also spent some time with a small commercial practice where she was exposed to liability claims from the plaintiff's perspective.

During her time working for a global adjusting firm and local Australian provider she has specialized in the investigation of injury claims (including VWA recoveries), professional indemnity claims, property damage claims and products liability claims (including recalls and contamination matters).

Angela has managed large scale product liability matters for UK and US underwriters involving multiple claimants and been appointed to liability programs for sporting organizations and commercial property managers.

She is involved with the following associations: Women in Insurance, AICLA, ANZIIF, LIV.
