

Severe weather warning issued for UAE

The UAE National Center of Meteorology (NCM) has issued an alert for unstable weather which is forecasted to take place over the coming days in the country. The UAE Ministry of Interior has also issued a safety alert in light of the forecasted weather.

Moderate to heavy showers have already been witnessed in the Emirates and further heavy rain with strong winds are expected to take place through to Wednesday 17th April 2024. Hail is also forecast to possibly fall in some areas.

Distance Learning for schools has been announced and Police have issued safety warnings urging drivers to be cautious during these adverse conditions.

These weather alerts follow thunderstorms and flash floods which were experienced in Oman over the weekend and continue to affect the Sultanate.
