BIOGRAPHY

Michael began his career in the insurance industry in 2001, handling auto bodily injury claims with Infinity Insurance and Southwest Appraisal Group. He built a solid foundation in claims evaluation and negotiations before joining The Hartford in 2004, where he spent seven years in various liability roles, focusing on investigations, litigation support, and training.

In 2011, he transitioned to LaMarch as an independent adjuster, expanding his expertise in commercial property and general liability claims across a range of industries.

In 2015, Michael joined McLarens, where he served as an Executive General Adjuster, managing complex and high-value property losses for global underwriters and reinsurers.

Over two decades, Michael has developed a strong track record across multiple sectors, including pharmaceuticals, life sciences, energy, education, manufacturing, agriculture, and public infrastructure. His ability to assess and resolve large loss claims efficiently has made him a trusted partner for carriers handling specialized risks and catastrophe events.
