BIOGRAPHY

Maria is an insurance and claims professional with over 35 years' experience across personal injury, home claims, technical claims support, and loss adjusting. She began her career in the legal sector as a Personal Legal Secretary to a Senior Partner, where she developed a strong foundation in legal processes, attention to detail, and client service. She then transitioned into insurance, holding claims roles across CTP and home portfolios, managing claims end-to-end with a focus on fair, timely, and compliant outcomes.

Over the past decade, Maria has specialized in technical claims support and analysis, working with global loss adjusting firms including Sedgwick and McLarens. Her roles have involved providing technical guidance, reviewing complex claims, ensuring accurate policy interpretation, supporting adjusters, and maintaining strong stakeholder communication across insurers, brokers, and clients.

In her current role as Internal Loss Adjuster at McLarens, she assists with the assessment and management of losses, applies her expertise in policy interpretation, and delivers practical, commercially sound claim resolutions.
