BIOGRAPHY

After working hurricane catastrophe claims and for a regional independent adjusting firm, Anthony joined McLarens in 2010 as a General Adjuster. He currently serves as Vice President and Senior Executive General Adjuster, focusing on regional, national, and global property program accounts.

Anthony also oversees the daily operations of the McLarens Miami office. Under his leadership, the Miami office has become a flagship location within the McLarens organization. He has a successful track record and extensive experience in the insurance industry, with a strong emphasis on commercial property claims and account management. Anthony has managed commercial property claim portfolios with insured values exceeding $20 billion.

Through the daily management of these programs, he has developed extensive expertise in business interruption, extra expense losses, hurricane catastrophe response, high-value self-insured retentions, complex bordereaux, and third-party administration.

Anthony enjoys developing strong working relationships with domestic and international underwriting teams, insurance brokerages, risk management teams, and insureds while administering sophisticated commercial property accounts.

He is licensed and has claim-handling capacity in 48 states. In 2019, Corp INTL Magazine named Anthony Allogia the “Commercial Property Claims Service Provider of the Year” in Florida.
