BIOGRAPHY

Matthew Anderson is an accomplished claims professional with over twenty-five years of experience in property and casualty claims management. His expertise spans residential and commercial property losses, general liability, construction defect, builders risk, environmental liability, product liability, catastrophe claims and business interruption losses. Throughout his career, Matthew has successfully investigated, evaluated, negotiated, and resolved complex claims ranging from routine losses to multi-million dollar exposures.

Matthew has held senior adjusting roles with major insurance carriers, independent adjusting firms, and consulting organizations, where he has developed a reputation for thorough investigation, sound coverage analysis, accurate damage assessment, and effective claims resolution. His experience includes managing large-loss property claims, handling catastrophe events across the United States, conducting claim audits, mentoring claim professionals, and collaborating with attorneys, public adjusters, experts and policyholders to achieve fair and timely outcomes.

He holds the Associate in Claims (AIC) and Senior Claim Law Associate (SCLA) designations and is currently pursuing his Chartered Property Casualty Underwriter (CPCU) designation. Matthew combines technical expertise with a customer focused approach, bringing professionalism, integrity and decades of industry knowledge to every claim he handles.
