BIOGRAPHY

Scott Hagenbucher is an Executive General Adjuster with McLarens based in the Philadelphia area, specializing in complex large-loss property claims throughout the Northeast and across the United States. His experience spans hospitality, commercial real estate, manufacturing, habitation, healthcare, and builder's risk exposures. Since joining McLarens in 2017, Scott has handled a wide range of losses throughout the United States, including CAT events, fire, water, flood, freeze, and other complex property damage matters. He has significant experience managing large, multi-party, and multi-location claims involving structural damage, building envelope issues, mitigation, repair scope disputes, and business interruption/extra expense exposures. Scott has deployed on major hurricane events and regularly works with insurers, brokers, risk managers, consultants, and insureds to evaluate loss scope, quantify damages, and move claims toward resolution. His background in accounting and financial analysis provides additional perspective in the evaluation of time element losses, including business interruption, extra expense, and other financial components of complex claims. Scott is a trusted resource to insurers and risk management clients and has worked on nominated accounts with billions of dollars in total insured values.
