BIOGRAPHY

Elijah is a Regional General Adjuster with a background in forensic accounting and extensive experience providing forensic accounting and consulting services related to complex insurance claims. He has worked with Fortune 100 companies, manufacturers, retailers, and other businesses in preparing and substantiating complex property and business interruption claims, including losses resulting from catastrophic insured events. His experience includes analyzing financial and operational information to assess and document the financial impact of significant losses.

As a Regional General Adjuster, Elijah handles claims throughout the United States and draws on his forensic accounting background when complex financial analysis is required. His ability to blend claims adjusting, accounting, and financial analysis provides a comprehensive approach to evaluating complex property and business interruption losses and understanding the operational and financial impact of an insured event.
